“Seven Reasons to Leave the Party” CLE

Approved for 1 Hour General CLE Credit

By the time a young person comes through the courtroom doors, it is too late. The most frustrating thing is to see young people enter the court system. We want to do something about that. The ‘7 Reasons to Leave the Party’ program is the judiciary’s attempt at preventative law. Using examples from actual court cases, the program gives young people 7 good reasons to leave a party where drugs or alcohol are present. This program, given to thousands of Illinois high school students, has been modified to educate attorneys how to educate young clients about the dangers and responsibilities associated with alcohol, drugs and sex.
