

The Immigration Project will be giving a brief overview of family-based immigration relief. We will discuss family petitions to establish relationships, adjusting status to a lawful permanent resident within the U.S., consular processing from outside of the U.S., and issues revolving around various inadmissibilities which may make an individual ineligible to benefit through a family-based immigration petition. Our office welcomes pro bono advocates to help us in providing immigration related legal services throughout Illinois. We will discuss the various opportunities The Immigration Project provides to assist with our office and clients.
